Conference Theme: Mixed Methods in Evaluation

The 2010 OPEG Spring Exchange will focus on the use of mixed methods in conducting evaluations. Mixed methods, as an approach to evaluation, engages multiple philosophical paradigms, theoretical assumptions, methodologies, and data gathering and analysis techniques to better understand the program being studied. This year's keynote speaker will be Dr. Donna M. Mertens of Gallaudet University, who will help to frame the conference theme and address several aspects of using a mixed methods approach to conducting evaluations. Dr. Mertens brings extensive knowledge and experience as the co-editor of the Journal of Mixed Methods. She is also the author of several publications related to mixed methods usage in educational evaluations with marginalized groups and individuals with disabilities. She is also a long-time member of OPEG's national affiliate, AEA (American Evaluation Association).
